

Fiesta to Open Friday in Port

The San Pedro Fishermen's Fiesta, the annual explosion of colorful entertainment and gaiety on the waterfront, this year will feature a melange of exotic foods, international folk dancing and daring sky-diving exhibitions during the three-day funfest, which starts Friday.

Mayor Samuel W. Yorty will officially open the Fiesta at 12 noon when he tours the harbor area aboard the fishing vessel "Frankie Boy" in company with Skipperette Liz Campos and First Mate Peggy Seehorn and Second Mate Heather Hayes.

Miss Campos was chosen in a Sept. 30 beauty contest, at which her first and second mates for the Fiesta ceremonies were also selected by a panel of judges headed by Film Star Ruta Lee.

THE FISHERMEN'S Fiesta is the traditional fall thanksgiving offered by members of the fishing community each year to celebrate the year's catch and the safe return of the men who follow the sea for a living.

Members of the Southern California fishing colony are drawn from diverse ethnic sources. It is the annual custom for these ethnic groups to stage centuries-old folk dances at the Fiesta, in colorful national costumes.

ORGANIZATIONS from the San Pedro community also operate food booths at the Fiesta, and try to outdo each other in the variety and richness of recipes handed down among fisherfolk from all over the world through many generations.

Top attraction, in the eyes of many who annually flock to the impressive ceremonial, is the parade of flower-bedecked fishing boats on Sunday, Oct. 15. This year, the theme of the floating spectacle is "International Holidays."

Cheese will continue to cure if kept in the warmest part of the refrigerator.

'Peanuts' Festivity Scheduled

Good grief! The Teen Dance Club of Lomita Recreation Center will host a "Peanuts Night" dance Friday, Oct. 13. Featured on that evening will be Peanuts himself, Snoopy, Pig Pen, and all the other characters of the popular "Peanuts" comic strip.

Hospital Corpsman 3/C Doyle T. Moore, USN, son of Mrs. Helen H. Moore of 15233 Spinning Ave., Gardena, is participating in operation "Schoolhouse" aboard the attack transport USS Pickaway in the Philippines.

All those attending the dance are invited to dress up as their favorite character in the comic strip. Snoopy dolls, Peanuts comic books, and other prizes will be awarded for wearing the best costumes.

The dance will be held in the community building at the Lomita Recreation Center, 24428 Eshelman Ave., from 7 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. All boys and girls, from ages 8 through 14, are invited to attend this dance. Admission to an evening of fun, games and prizes is only 25 cents.

AUTHENTIC DANCERS . . . "Kitka" Bulgarian Macedonian dancers again will provide colorful folk dances at the Fishermen's Fiesta Oct. 13, 14, and 15 at Port of Los Angeles, San Pedro. The three-day celebration will be highlighted by the famous parade of decorated fishing boats carrying out this year's theme: "International Holidays."

Unvented Heaters Target Of Annual Safety Drive

Los Angeles city and county officials have launched Southern California's 15th annual "Safety-in-Winter Heating" drive.

The annual campaign serves to alert Southern Californians to the potential hazards of using obsolete, unvented, and open-flame space heaters and to emphasize the importance of periodic inspections of heating equipment.

Representatives of city and county fire, health and building departments, the County Coroner's office, County Administrator's office, Los Angeles City Schools, Los Angeles Chapter of the National Safety Council, and the gas

Legion to Hear Supervisor Hahn

Supervisor Kenneth Hahn is scheduled to address the semi-annual meeting of the Fourth Area American Legion Saturday, Oct. 21.

The meeting will be held at the Bert S. Crossland Post 170, 1109 Van Ness Ave., at 11 a.m., Capt. Norman M. Lyons, chairman, said.

companies attended the meeting which launched the drive.

THE FIRST joint "Safety-In-Winter Heating" campaign was launched in 1952 following winter seasons in which an average of 40 to 50 accidental deaths attributable to unvented heaters were reported.

The annual education program has dramatically cut this figure.

Released figures for last year show that there were six incidents involving unvented heaters resulting in six deaths.

L. E. Henry of the Southern California Gas Co. reported that there are an estimated 235,000 unvented heaters still installed in area homes.

THESE HEATING hearthrooms should not be confused with modern vented gas equipment providing winter comfort with safety to nearly all Southland homes," he said. An unvented heater is one which lacks a vent system to carry combustion products out of residence.

In a room without sufficient ventilation, a major build up of carbon monoxide can be dangerous.

AN OPEN-FLAME heater is one in which the burner is not completely enclosed.

These heaters are fire hazards when placed too near draperies or in traffic or play areas where clothing might be ignited.

The officials agreed that all obsolete unvented heaters should be replaced with modern approved vented equipment. While awaiting replacement, the equipment should be checked for safety by a qualified service agency or the gas company.
